Dear Parishioners,

1. God's Breaking Point

Every parent, no matter how patient, has a breaking point. Even a parent who can tolerate endless noise and outrageous disobedience from his children will finally blow up when his breaking point is reached. In the First Reading, God tells us what his breaking point is.

It has to do with those people who are aliens and orphans. Some people live as strangers in a strange land; they are aliens in their own communities. And some people lack love and care. They are like orphans, alone, without a home.

You might suppose that these aliens and orphans are easy to recognize. They are the ones without money, or the ones without a family, you might think. But there you would be mistaken. People rarely are so transparent. There can be aliens and orphans among the rich and powerful, just as there can be much loved and cared for people who live among the poor. You just don't know.

But here is what we do know, from the First Reading. If something you do makes someone who lives as an orphan or an alien cry to God in his suffering, God will lose all patience with you. He will blow up at you, and sooner or later you will know what it is to have made God angry at you.

This ought to be a very alarming prospect to us.

But what is the point of this thought? Is it to make us always anxious and scared of God? No, of course not! What good would we be to anyone in that condition?

The point is rather to make us watchful of the way in which we treat any one of God's children. Let us look at each person who crosses our path, each one, rich or poor, obnoxious or likeable, as under the protection of the God who is Father in Heaven to us all. Let us make sure that we do not cause any person to cry to God by what we say or do to him. And let us join with God in losing all patience with those who afflict God's hopeless or homeless children.

Then what we will know is not the wrath of the Lord, but the joy that comes from being with God in his love.

2. New Archbishop of Sydney

As previously advised by The Apostolic Administrator, Bishop Peter A Comensoli, the Liturgical Reception and Mass of Installation for the Most Reverend Anthony Fisher OP as the ninth Archbishop of Sydney will take place at St Mary's Cathedral on Wednesday, 12 November 2014 at 7.30pm. Those attending would need to be seated by 7.00pm. All are welcome.

CATHOLIC WOMEN'S LEAGUE

SILVER CIRCLE

Congratulations to the (Week 10) final winners:

1st – No. 14 Eileen Ommundson ($100)

2nd – No. 29 Nuccia Petrocitto ($50)

A sincere thank you to everyone who supported the Silver Circle this year

Please note there will be NO BINGO during the month of November

The month of the Holy Rosary is October and this entire month is dedicated to the Rosary. The feast day of the Holy Rosary in particular is October 7th held in memory of the glorious and triumphant victory at the battle of Lepanto. That battle was the most convincing military victory that proved without a doubt the great power of the Rosary.

The month of October is a good time to commit to praying the Rosary every day. The Rosary will bring great peace and holiness to your life. It is a powerful instrument for conversion. The Rosary is the best method of honouring Mary. Popes Pius XII, John Paul II and Francis consecrated the world to Mary in 1942, 1984 and 2013 respectively. It protects the Church from false teachings and keeps her safe from the attacks from the Enemy.

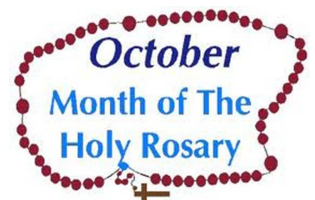

There are some great ways to celebrate the month of the Holy Rosary: Pray the everyday this month. Pray it especially for priests. Even though the Year For Priests has come and gone, they still need your constant prayers.

Make rosaries, have them blessed and give them away.

Invite a Pilgrim Virgin statue into your home and pray the Rosary every day.

Attend Mass on October 7th, the Feast of Our Lady of the Holy Rosary and on October 13th, the day of the final visit of Mary to Fatima.

Promote the Rosary through the social networks that you are part of.

POPE FRANCIS' COLUMN

Pope Condemns Corruption as Evil That 'Must Be Cured'

Says No to Death Penalty, Deplorable Prison Conditions, Abuses of Elderly, Children

Pope Francis has warned that being corrupt is even more evil than being sinful.

Addressing delegates from the International Association of Penal Law (AIDP) this morning in the Vatican, the Holy Father said, "Corruption is a process of death ... more evil than sin. An evil that, instead of being forgiven, must be cured."

"Caution in the application of penal codes," Francis stressed, "must be the overarching principle of legal systems."

Also, he highlighted that "respect for human dignity must not only act to limit the arbitrariness and excesses of government agents," but must also serve as the "guiding criterion" for prosecuting and punishing behaviors that represent the most serious attacks on the dignity and integrity of the human person.

While saying that the scandalous accumulation of global wealth is possible because of the connivance of those with strong powers who are responsible for public affairs, the Pope stressed the need for effective legal and political methods to counter abuses.

Such methods, he continued, cannot to be characterized by the mythological "scapegoat" logic, he said, referring to when an individual is "unjustly accused of the misfortunes that befall a community and then chosen to be sacrificed."

Moreover, he called for implementation of inclusive economic and social policies.

Drawing attention to the primacy of the life and dignity of the human person, the Pope reaffirmed the condemnation of the death penalty, "the use of which," he said, "is rejected by Christians."

The Pontiff underscored that the death penalty is used in totalitarian regimes as "an instrument of suppression of political dissent or of persecution of religious or cultural minorities".

On the conditions of prisoners, including prisoners who have not been convicted and those convicted without a trial, he stated that pretrial detention, when used improperly, is another modern form of unlawful punishment "that is hidden behind legality."

He also criticized the deplorable prison conditions which exist all over the world.

Turning to torture and other inhuman and degrading treatment, he said that in today's world such treatments are not only used not only as a means to achieve a particular, security-related purpose, but rather are often exploited.

Criminal code itself, the Pope noted, bears responsibility for having allowed, at times, the legitimacy of torture under certain conditions to open the way for further abuse.

In addition, Francis did not forget the application of criminal sanctions against children and the elderly. He condemned such sanctions' use in both cases.

Human trafficking and slavery, Pope Francis also underscored, are damaging to the human person and their dignity, which are recognized both as "crimes against humanity" as well as "war crimes in both international law and under many nations' laws."
