Dear Parishioners,

1. There is Power in the Blood

The Second Reading says that the blood of Christ cleans our consciences from dead works.

Anybody who does laundry can tell you that one of the hardest stains to get out is blood. Why would anybody think you could clean things with blood?

The answer depends on what you are trying to clean. The Second Reading is talking about cleaning dead works out of the conscience.

But what is a dead work?

Well, a thing that is dead just lies there, without moving. So dead works are works that don't go anywhere. And where would works be going except where the person who does the works wants them to go?

And now we have a better idea of what a dead work is, don't we? In Romans (7:15), Paul says, "I do not do what I want, but I do what I hate." Is there anyone who doesn't understand this problem?

Examples of it are easy to come by. Here's one: You set out bravely to give up smoking, and day after day you smoke.

It's not hard to see why dead works stain a conscience. Whose conscience would not feel stained by endless daily failure to do what he himself wants to do?

This is what the blood of Christ cleanses us from.

The blood is the life of a thing, scripture says, (Dt 12:23). If in the Eucharist the blood of Christ comes into us, then Christ's life comes into us. By his life, we are made into one body with him, one living body, with a living Spirit, the Spirit of Christ.

What we could not do on our own, because our works are dead and our consciences are stained, the blood, the life, the Spirit of Christ can do in us.

When we are united with Christ through his body and blood in the Eucharist, our works live, too, through him. And if our works live, then our consciences are cleansed too.

In fact, it turns out that even our dirty laundry is cleaned by the blood of Christ. The saints in heaven have made their clothes white in the blood of the lamb (Revelation 7:14).

The old Spiritual hymn is right: there is power in the blood!

2. The Rose Gallagher Project

Happy Birthday 18 year old!

Turning 18 is a significant milestone, time of celebrations, a time to plan for what lies ahead be it tertiary study, travel or work. But for those in Out-of-Home Care (or foster care) it is time to leave the little bit of security they had as they are no longer the responsibility of the state.

Last Friday 29th May heralded the official opening of the Rose Gallagher Houses in Five Dock. These homes which were bequeathed by Rose, were specifically built for vulnerable youth at risk of homelessness of any or no particular religious background.

BUT we still need to pay at least $50,000 for the furnishings and fit out of these houses.

Can you please assist us in making Rose's vision reality?

One way is to assist in fundraising. A 1920's inspired charity event, At Rose's will be held later in the year to try to raise most of the funds. (more info later).

As with all charity events they begin with sponsors and donations. There are different levels of sponsorship gold, silver, bronze and others including donations.

So if you as an individual, business, philanthropist or group of friends or families would like to register your sponsorship/ donations or simply get an information pack please contact Elena in the Parish office.

Can you help give youth at risk a chance of a better life?

3. Bus trip

Thank you to the PPC, especially Cathy and Maria for organising the Parish Bus Trip. I am sure all who attended enjoy the day. A group shot is in the gathering space.

4. Catholic Mission Appeal

Thank you to all who donated to the Catholic Mission Appeal held over the last 2 weeks. Your donations went towards supporting the Living Water program to the people of Madagascar through your kind gifts and prayers. Your generosity is making it possible for local priests and sisters, like Sister Rose Rasoavololona, to continue to offer life-saving practical and spiritual support to those in need.

5. Readers for Youth Mass

Helpers are always needed to participate in our liturgy. Please see myself or Fr Salas if you would like to join the roster especially for readers at the Youth Mass.

6. Extra-ordinary Ministers of Communion

In the near future we will be running a course to train some more ministers of communion. This involves assisting the priest in giving communion at Mass on a roster system and at times taking communion to the sick and elderly. In order to get numbers of those interested please contact Elena at the office, we already have a good expression of interest.

7. Greg's Grill

Greg's Grill is scheduled for Saturday 18th July. Flyers are available in the gathering space. Please fill in and return to office by 11th July.

8. Communion

Over the past four weeks 92 children have been preparing for the Sacrament of Communion which will be celebrated here over the following 2 weekends at 11.30am.

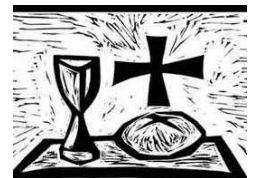

Please keep our parish children in your prayers.

A reminder practice for the first group of candidates will take place on Friday 12th at 3.30pm in the Church.

I would like to thank hosts and leaders for their time and effort in helping the children prepare for this special sacrament. Could leaders please return their tubs to the parish office at their earliest convenience.

God Bless

Fr. Greg

POPE'S COLUMN

Pope at Corpus Christi: "The Bread of Life Has Come Down to Us!" Says Jesus Shed His Blood So We Would Be Freed, Cleansed

So that we may be free from sins and cleansed, Jesus shed his blood, Pope Francis recalled at this evening's Corpus Christi procession.

In his Corpus Christi homily Thursday evening in the courtyard of St. John Lateran, the Pope underscored, "Jesus shed his blood as a price and as cleansing, that we might be clean from all sins," which therefore allows us to experience "the grace of a transformation."

"We will remain always poor sinners, but the Blood of Christ will deliver us from our sins and give us back our dignity," the Pontiff reflected. "Without our merit, with sincere humility, we can bring to their brothers the love of our Lord and Savior. We will be his eyes that go in search of Zacchaeus and of Magdalene; we will be His hand who helps the sick in body and spirit; we will be His loving heart in need of reconciliation and understanding."

At the Last Supper, the Jesuit Pontiff recalled, Jesus gave his Body and his Blood, to leave us the memorial of his sacrifice of infinite love. With this "encouragement" full of grace, he noted, "the disciples have everything they need for their long journey through history, extending to all the kingdom of God."

In Jesus' sacrificing himself on the Cross, Francis pointed out, He gifted His disciples light and strength. Light and strength will be for them the gift that Jesus made of himself, sacrificing himself voluntarily on cross.

"This Bread of Life has come down to us! The Church has never-ending amazement before this reality," he said, noting this amazement is one which leads to more contemplation, memory, and worship. He called on those gathered to reflect on their lives and the times they are not obedient to God's Word, don't live in brotherhood, and compete against each other, rather than doing what is needed in terms of witnessing charity and offering hope.

The Eucharist, Francis noted, helps us, for it is "the bond of communion, the fulfillment of the Covenant, a living sign of the love of Christ who humbled Himself."

By participating in the Eucharist, he pointed out, "we are placed in a way that does not allow divisions." "Christ present in our midst, the signs of bread and wine, requires that the power of love exceeds every tear, and at the same time it becomes communion with the poor, support of the weak, fraternal attention to those who are struggling to support the weight of everyday life."

The Argentine Pontiff called on Christians to leave aside "the idolatry of our time." This, he cautioned, includes everything from appearances, consumption, the self being at the center of everything, to being competitive, arrogant and unwilling to admit you make mistakes.

"All this demeans us, making us Christians mediocre, lukewarm, [and] insipid," he said.

The Eucharist, the Holy Father underscored, makes present "the alliance that sanctifies us, purifies us and unites us in communion with God."

"Today, the feast of Corpus Christi, we have the joy not only to celebrate this mystery, but also to praise Him and sing in the streets of our city."

After the Mass in the courtyard of St. John Lateran, tradition involves candle-carrying faithful taking part in the procession, thereby illuminating an otherwise dark Via Merulana, the arterial street leading from the arch-basilica of St. John Lateran to the Marian Basilica of St. Mary Major. The festivities of the evening will still conclude in front of Saint Mary Major, with the Pope's benediction with the Blessed Sacrament.

"The procession following the Mass," the Holy Father explained, can express our gratitude for the way God has rescued us from our slavery, "by feeding us His love through the Sacrament of his Body and the Blood." Before concluding, the Pontiff prayed that as those gathered get ready to start this procession, "Let us feel in communion with our brothers and sisters who do not have the freedom to express their faith in the Lord Jesus. Let us feel united with them, sing with them, praise them, we love them. And we worship in our hearts with those brothers and sisters who have been asked to sacrifice their lives for fidelity to Christ: may their blood, together with that of the Lord, be a pledge of peace and reconciliation for the whole world."

"What do I want to do in life?"

CANTORS WANTED!

St Mary's Cathedral has three Masses every weekend led by a solo cantor. This is a vital part of the Cathedral's liturgy and is carried out by volunteer singers. If you think you would like to serve the Cathedral in this important role as part of our team of cantors please contact the music department on 9220 0481 or music@stmaryscathedral.org.au.

We are looking for people who have good voices and are keen to be involved with the liturgical life of the Cathedral. A basic knowledge of how to read music and some singing experience would be an advantage.
