Dear Parishioners,

1. Grieving God

In the Second Reading, Paul warns people not to grieve the Holy Spirit of God. It is a sad thing to grieve your mother or your best friend. It is really dreadful to grieve God himself. How does a person manage to do such a lamentable thing?

You grieve God when you engage in malice, Paul says. Now, malice is the opposite of love. To love someone is to want the good for him and to want to be united with him, too. So you can be malicious by refusing either of these desires of love. If you want what is bad for another person, or if you utterly reject another person, you are malicious with regard to him.

So you don't have to engage in murder or theft or adultery to grieve God. As the Second Reading implies, you can grieve God just by reviling another person. You revile a person when you say bad things about him, to his face or behind his back, just for the sake of putting him down. When you do this, you take a kind of perverse pleasure in his badness. That is why reviling is malicious. It is the opposite of love's desire for the good of the other.

Bitterness is on Paul's list of ways to grieve God, too. A bitter drink is one that has no sweetness in it; it just sets the drinker's teeth on edge. Your heart and mind are bitter if you are focused largely on the bad in things, and that bad-tempered focus of yours sets everybody else on edge as they try to tiptoe around you. You can't want the good for others if all you can see is the bad in them. And you can't want to be united with them either if your bitterness blocks joy in you.

If you revile others, if you are bitter, you are malicious; and when you are malicious, you are opposed to love. But God is love, and it isn't possible for there to be union between God and what is opposed to God.

Your malice grieves God, then, because he has lost you when you are malicious; and, for God, your loss is worth grieving.

It's a sobering thought to be so loved, isn't it?

2. First Holy Communion Photos

First Holy Communion Photos are now available for collection at the Parish office from Tuesday to Friday, 8.30 am to 3.30pm.

3. Charitable Works Fund (CWF) Appeal

Thank you for your support of the CWF collection held last week. There is so much which can be done with your donations.

4. Guest Speakers at All Hallows Church

At all the masses next weekend 15/16th August there will be a guest speaker from CatholicCare. They will be speaking on the Rose Gallagher Project and the ALIVE Program (Adults Living Independently Via Empowerment.)

During each of the masses there will be a special 3rd collection specifically directed to the Rose Gallagher Project. Special envelopes will be on church pews for this collection. It is a great opportunity to donate to this extremely worthy cause especially if you are unable to attend Our Parish's largest fundraiser for the year, At Rose's.

As you are aware Rose was a parishioner of All Hallows and we are supporting her desire to help the less fortunate with a fundraiser being held on 9th October at the Mediterranean House, as you will see advertised in the bulletin

Should your business want to sponsor/donate prizes to this extremely worthy cause, fill in sheet in gathering space and send to Parish Office. Your support will not only be much appreciated but recognised in promotional material.

5. Confirmation

Confirmation this year will be celebrated on 30th August in 2 sessions. The first session will be celebrated by 30 children within the 10am Mass. Please be aware this Mass will be busier than usual.

The second session will commence at 12.30pm with 38 children receiving the sacrament.

Please keep the children receiving Confirmation later this month in your prayers.

6. End of Financial Year

Receipts for Planned Giving are available in the gathering space. Thank you for supporting the Church and School.

7. Readers Roster

The next Youth Readers' Roster will be issued shortly. If any young member of the parish would like to join the roster for reading at the Youth Mass of a Sunday evening, please contact Maria Zol 0408 856 277 or email zolmail@tpg.com.au

8. Fr Sergi d'Assis

We welcome Fr Sergi who is a guest in the presbytery for the next 3 weeks as he is part of an exchange programme with his students from his school in Spain. Sergi is unlikely to be involved in any parish activities but if you see him around please give our Spanish guest a welcoming aussie hello.

9. Ordinations to the Priesthood

Next Saturday on the feast of the Assumption, 15th August, Deacons Tom Stevens and Lewi Barakant will be ordained to the priesthood at St Marys Cathedral at 11am.

Please keep these men in your prayers as they are ordained Priests for the Archdiocese of Sydney.

10. Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary

Next Friday the All Hallows children will join us at 9.15am to celebrate the Mass of the Assumption.

A single key has been found in the church, please contact the parish office if you have misplaced a key.

God Bless
Fr. Greg

POPE'S COLUMN

Dear Altar Servers, Good evening.

I thank you all for coming in such great numbers; you have withstood the heat of the sun in Rome in August. I thank Bishop Nemet, your President, for his words of introduction and greeting. You have come from a variety of countries on pilgrimage to Rome, the city where the Apostles Peter and Paul were martyred.

It is important to realize that being close to Jesus and knowing him in the Eucharist through your service at the altar, enables you to open yourselves to others, to journey together, to set demanding goals and to find the strength to achieve them. It is a source of real joy to recognize that we are small and weak, all the while knowing that, with Jesus' help, we can be strengthened and take up the challenge of life's great journey in his company.

The prophet Isaiah also discovered this truth, which is to say that God purified his intentions, forgave his sins, healed his heart and made him ready to take up the important task of bringing God's word to his people. In so doing, he became an instrument of the presence of divine mercy. Isaiah realized that, by entrusting himself into the hands of the Lord, his whole existence would be transformed.

The biblical verse that we have just heard speaks to us precisely of this. Isaiah had a vision of the glory of the Lord. At the same time, the vision showed to him that, although the Lord revealed himself, he still remained far off.

Isaiah was astonished to discover that it was God who made the first move. God is the one drawing close. He noticed that God's actions were not impeded by his imperfections; it was God's goodness alone that enabled him to take up the mission, transforming him into a totally new person and therefore one able to respond to the call of the Lord, saying, "Here I am! Send me" (Is 6:8).

You are more fortunate today than the prophet Isaiah. In the Eucharist and in the other sacraments, you experience the intimate closeness of Jesus, the sweetness and power of his presence. You do not encounter Jesus placed on an inaccessibly high throne, but in the bread and wine of the Eucharist. His word does not shake the doorposts, but rather caresses the strings of the heart. Like Isaiah, each of you sees that God, although making himself close to us in Jesus and bending down towards you with love, remains always immeasurably greater, beyond our ability to understand him in his deepest being. Like Isaiah, you too have experienced that it is always God who takes the lead, because it is he who created you and willed you into being. It is he who, in your baptism, has made you into a new creation; he is always patiently waiting for your response to his initiative, offering forgiveness to whoever asks him in humility.

If we do not resist him, Jesus will touch our lips with the flame of his merciful love, as he did to the prophet Isaiah. This will make us worthy to receive him and to bring him to our brothers and sisters. Like Isaiah, we too are invited to not remain closed in on ourselves, protecting our faith in an underground bunker to which we flee in difficult moments. Rather, we are called to share the joy of knowing we are chosen and saved by God's mercy, the joy of being witnesses to the fact that faith gives new direction to our steps, that it makes us free and strong so as to be ready and able for mission.

How beautiful it is to realize that faith brings us out of ourselves, out of our isolation. Precisely because we are filled with the joy of being friends with Jesus Christ, faith draws us towards others, making us natural missionaries!

Dear altar boys and altar girls, the closer you are to the altar, the more you will remember to speak with Jesus in daily prayer; the more you will be nourished by the Word and the Body of the Lord, the better able you will be to go out to others, bringing them the gift that you have received, giving in turn with enthusiasm the joy you have received.

Thank you for serving at the Lord's altar and for making of this service a real school of learning the faith, and charity toward your neighbour. Thank you also for having begun to respond to the Lord, like the prophet Isaiah, "Here I am. Send me" (Is 6:8).

2015 Memorial Mass for the Unborn

Remembering all those hurt by abortion

In commemoration of this profound loss and in solidarity with bereaved mothers and fathers, Archbishop Anthony Fisher OP will celebrate the annual Memorial Mass for the Unborn at 7:00pm on Friday 11th September at St Mary’s Cathedral. The Mass will be an opportunity to bring the Catholic community together to remember and pray for all those touched by abortion. During the Mass eighty-two candles will be brought forward in remembrance of the lives lost to abortion each day in New South Wales. There will also be an acknowledgement of all those who have lost children to miscarriage during the Mass.
